

Duplicate an Experience into a Market

Follow these steps to duplicate a Web experience into a market.

You cannot duplicate into another account a recommendations experience configured with a recommendation strategy that uses a product catalog that is not the default one and with a recommendation algorithm that draws on market-specific data or on data from all accounts.

1. Navigate to the experience that you want to duplicate, and then open it in Experience Editor.
2. Click the drop-down arrow to the right of DUPLICATE, and then select Duplicate Into Another Account.
3. Select the market into which you want to duplicate the experience.

After you select a market, the accounts that are in that market are automatically selected in the Duplicate Experience modal.

4. Optionally, deselect any account that's part of the market that you do not want to have a copy of the experience.
5. Click SAVE.
6. Click OK.

The duplicated experience isn't automatically activated but instead appears as a draft. You must go into the other accounts into which you copied the experience, make any revisions necessary, and then activate the experience.
